

LIQUOR 'TOTERS' GET PRISON SENTENCES

Four Are Convicted of Violating Reed Amendment.

A quartet of liquor "toters" three of them colored and one white, were sentenced by Judge Pugh for violating the Reed amendment which prohibits the importation of liquor into dry territories.

They are, John Wesley Porter, of Blues, Va., a railroad fireman; Viktor Hill, of Hopewell, Va., a Pinn. employed in the munition works; David Briston, a one-legged dishwasher, of Rocky Mount, N. C., and John Serles, of 319 Fourth street northwest of this city.

All were given four months straight sentences, except Hill, who has the privilege of paying $100 fine in lieu of serving his time. Porter and Hill were tried several days ago and their statements convinced Prosecutor Glavin at the time that both were un-tentional offenders. Investigation showed, however, that Porter's story was not altogether correct and that Hill was nearest the truth. That is why Hill has the privilege of paying his fine and securing his liberty. David Briston, the one-legged man was caught on a train bound for Fredericksburg, Va., with twenty-three pints of whisky in a suitcase. He disclaimed ownership of the liquor to Detective Grime at first, but further investigation proved that he did own it.

John Serles was taking a "little toddy" to his grandmother, he said when Detective Lillard caught him near Alexandria with twelve quarts and one pint. "Number 12" was his undoing, he told the detective. As Lillard was questioning Serles a Virginia sheriff walked up and volunteered the information that he had once shot at Serles for a similar offense.

GIVE FREE TICKETS TO CITY GUARDIANS

Policemen and Firemen to Attend National Food Show.

Policemen and firemen, as has been the custom in past years, will be provided with two tickets each to the National Food and Industrial Exposition, according to announcement of Perry F. Patrick, secretary and general manager of the affair.

The show, which is given annually under the auspices of the Retail Grocers' Association of Washington, will be held this year in Convention Hall, November 8 to 17, inclusive, with the exception of Sunday.

Mr. Patrick, who has been in direct charge of the show for a number of years, yesterday communicated with Maj. Pullman, superintendent of police, in regard to the distribution of the tickets to the bluecoats. "Unless all signs fail the show this year will be better and bigger than ever before and of more value to the consumers. With the National Food Commission taking part, the show takes on a broader aspect than in the past, and should prove of equal value to the consumer and distributor. The limited number of exhibitors' spaces are being rapidly contracted for by local and national producers.

Twenty cash prizes will be distributed to the members of the local association, ten for the largest buyers from exhibitors and the same number for the leaders in the disposal of tickets to the show. There will be only one show the opening day, that from 7:30 to 10:30 in the evening. On all other days the exhibit will be open from 2:30 to 5:30 and the evening hours named above.

SOLDIERS MAY AID BELGIAN SUFFERERS

Those in National Army Asked to Contribute Civilian Clothes.

Men entering the new national army have been asked to contribute to Belgian relief the civilian clothes they are about to discard for the duration of the war.

Secretary of War Baker, at the suggestion of Herbert Hoover, chairman of the commission for relief in Belgium, has notified commanding officers at all cantonments that representatives of the commission will soon be on the ground to collect the clothing.

Permission has been secured to ship 40 tons of clothing into Belgium across the Dutch frontier. Secretary Baker took immediate action upon receipt of Mr. Hoover's request by directing Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, chief of staff, to wire all cantonment commanders to turn over to camp quartermasters all clothing contributed and report the total amount secured by wire, to await further instructions. Charles A. Engelbrecht and Rodney Beckett, have been nominated by the commission to undertake the whole clothing situation, so far as it refers to cantonments. Gen. Bliss dispatched a second message later to cantonment commanders, notifying them of Secretary Baker's authorization of representatives of the commission to visit cantonments personally and that Mr. Hoover would notify them by wire direct, when these representatives were appointed.

Gen. Bliss, in telegram to cantonment commanders, says: "Each drafted man in your cantonment could feel that by this contribution he had already begun to render most valuable service in the cause for which he is taking up arms."
